

ONLINE COURSE

THE ESG JOURNEY

FROM FOUNDATIONS TO PRACTICE

February 15-28, 2027

On Zoom and Moodle

Medium of Instruction: English

Environmental and Social Governance (ESG) has rapidly moved from a niche concept to a core requirement, shaping how organisations operate, disclose information and build stakeholder trust. Across global markets, frameworks such as GRI, TCFD, and IFRS help organisations measure and communicate sustainability performance, while growing expectations from investors, regulators, and consumers continue to raise the bar for accountability.

Yet as ESG adoption accelerates, complexity grows. Organisations must now go beyond disclosure to demonstrate credible impact, and stakeholders must know how to distinguish genuine efforts from greenwashing.

Our new online course is designed to build a strong foundation in ESG and sustainability reporting. It will unpack key concepts, global frameworks and real-world applications, showing how ESG is integrated into decision-making and translated into disclosures, in a clear, step-by-step progression. It will also discuss learnings from Business Responsibility and Sustainability Report (BRSR) disclosure framework mandated by SEBI for top 1,000 listed entities in India.

Whether you're from industry, academia, civil society, or just starting out in sustainability, this course will help you understand ESG and apply it meaningfully.
