ABOUT THE CONCLAVE

CSE in partnership with University of West England (UWE) Bristol is organising a knowledge which is a second conclave in series supported by Global Challenge Research Fund (GCRF) and International Water Security Network (IWSN) under Lloyd Registry.

This conclave seeks to articulate research tools to understand how the 'Green Infrastructure' and 'Blue-Green spaces' in cities can affect health and wellbeing as well as help in making water sensitive and resilient urban settlements.

OBJECTIVES:

- Bring together academican, researchers and practitioners involved in mainstreaming blue – green spaces and infrastructure for making water sensitive cities in the global south.
- Learn about various tools used in designing, implementing, monitoring green infrastructure - for rollout and testing tools in different contexts
- Experience sharing from implemented case studies of GI in terms of the issues and challenges

- Understanding how water-based environments in towns and cities can affect health and wellbeing.
- Develop state of teaching – learning material, trainings (including online course)
- Networking with key players and peer to peer learning.
